To all you prospective employees I have been a caregiver working for Joanie MacDonald's agency called Home Sweet Home Care for over one year. I have extensive experience in this chosen occupation but had yet to work for a company that had an owner/boss who cared so much about the day to day compatibility of both not only her client but also her staff. In order for the placement to be compatible an extensive and often very time consuming process must be initiated. Joanie creates the groundwork for an exemplary success to occur and is then available at all times for her employees. This is not an easy business from anyone's point of view but it can be the most fulfilling and rewarding experience when the boss is Joanie MacDonald and the business is Home Sweet Home Care, Inc.
